

Zine Harder Challenge 2016

- Read a fanzine about a person _____
- Read a DIY zine and practice a skill you learn _____
- Read a fanzine from the 1980s or earlier _____
- Read a zine with music reviews and make a play list or mix based on it _____
- Read a zine anthology or collection in book form _____
- Read a one-page folded zine, then make your own _____
- Read a zine by a trans person _____
- Read a zine by someone of Middle Eastern descent _____
- Read a zine by someone of Southeast Asian descent _____
- Read a history zine or read about zine history _____
- Read the first zine in a series by a person of color _____
- Read a minicomic _____
- Read a zine or minicomic that later became a book or graphic novel _____
- Read an explicitly feminist zine _____
- Read a zine by someone who practices a religion _____
- Read a zine about political activism _____
- Read a cookzine and make one of the recipes _____
- Read a zine that includes an ICQ, email, or chat transcript _____
- Read a self-care zine _____

More Zine Harder Info: zinelibraries.info/zine-harder

Inspired by Book Riot's Read Harder Challenge (which you should totally do, too)

<http://bookriot.com/2015/12/15/2016-book-riot-read-harder-challenge/>